About Us

Bodmando Consulting Group (Registration Number:80034357969942) is a registered international development and humanitarian consulting enterprise headquartered in Wakiso district, Central Uganda but with a team of 15 field staff spread across East and West Africa, South Asia and the MENA region. We are a women led research institution that designs innovative solutions to tackle poverty, health inequities, gender inequality and social injustice using an intersectional lens and human centred design.

Our research team is composed of multidisciplinary staff with a technical background in several thematic areas including 2 programme managers who oversee our global operational activities. We also have a consultancy pool of over 1000 experts spread across the world and are part of a global network of think tanks.

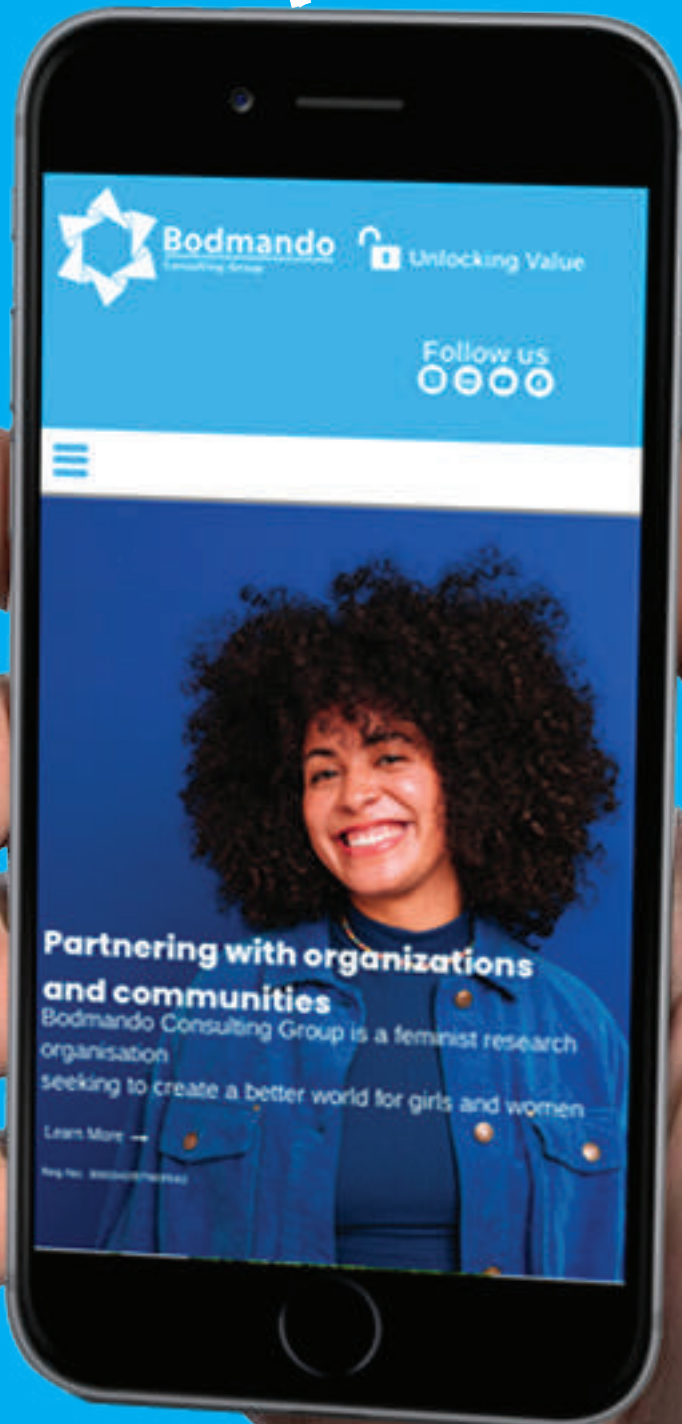

Unlocking Value

Our approach is based on systems thinking, human centered design and intersectionality.

We collaborate with stakeholders across the entire ecosystem to diagnose problems, co-create solutions and strategies that overcome complex challenges and we illuminate opportunities for high value and impact.

Our Purpose

Vision

A world free from intergenerational poverty, gender inequality, health and social injustice.

Mission

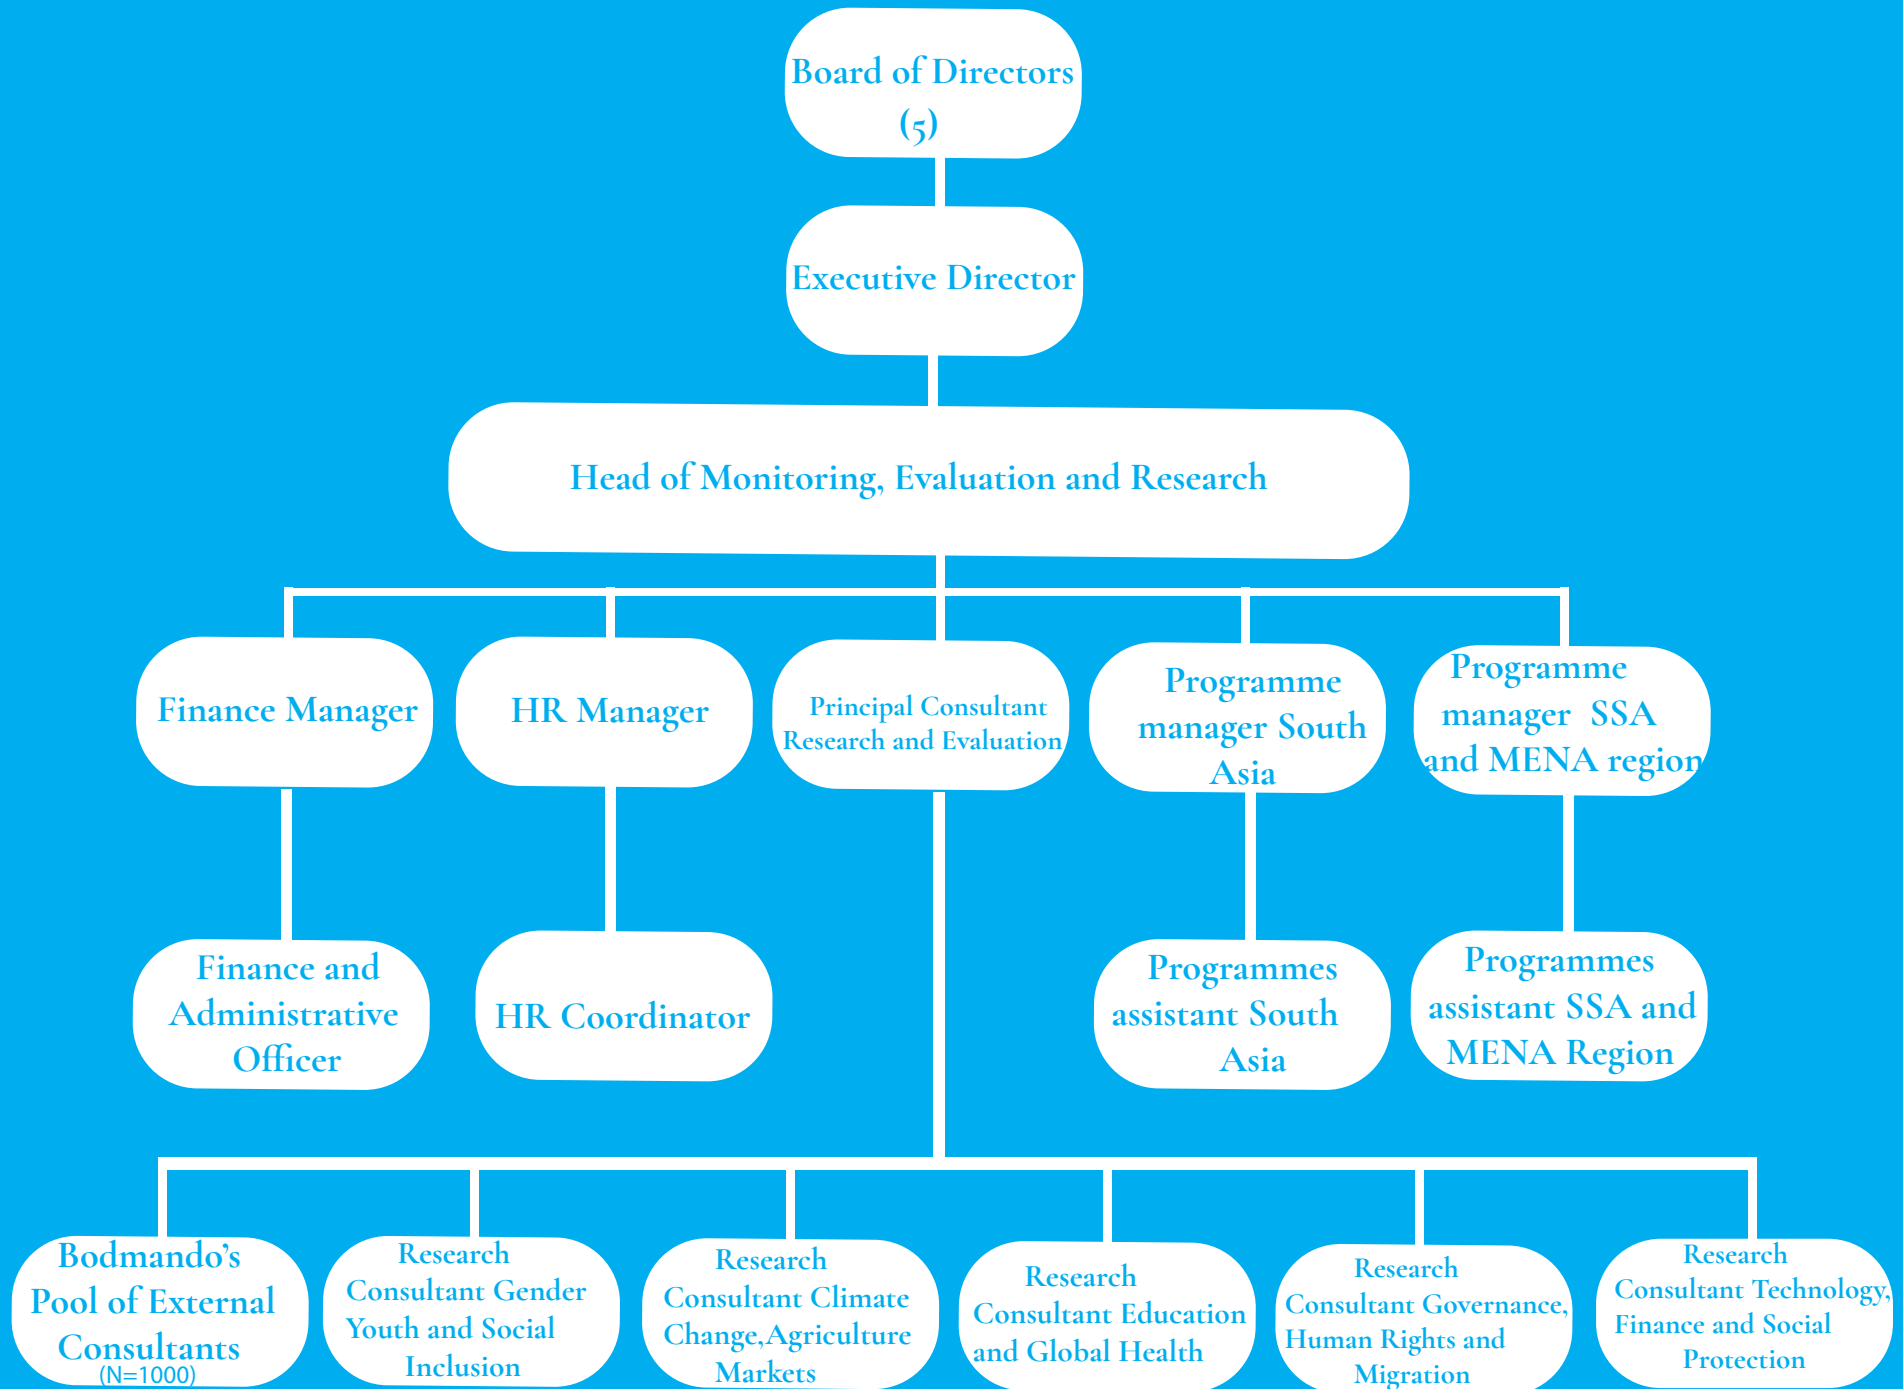

Design robust and transformative solutions to improve the direction and impact of global development programmes that seek to address poverty, gender inequality, health and social injustice.
